Dynatronics Regains Compliance with NASDAQ

SALT LAKE CITY, April 14, 2011. Dynatronics Corporation (NASDAQ: DYNT) today announced that the company has received a letter from NASDAQ stating that Dynatronics has regained compliance with the $1.00 minimum bid requirement for listing on that exchange.

“By curing the $1 minimum bid deficiency, we have removed the current threat of delisting, thus preserving value for our shareholders,” stated Kelvyn H. Cullimore Jr., chairman and president of the company.

“We believe Dynatronics has more potential now than perhaps at any time in our 30-year history,” he added. “I say that not only because of our success in securing three important GPO contracts and our sustained profitability over the past nine quarters, but also because of the new products we have under development and the potential of our Stream software service.”

Dynatronics manufactures, markets and distributes advanced-technology medical devices, orthopedic soft goods and supplies, treatment tables and rehabilitation equipment for the physical therapy, sports medicine, chiropractic, podiatry, plastic surgery, dermatology and other related medical, cosmetic and aesthetic markets.
