Dynatronics Regains Compliance with NASDAQ

SALT LAKE CITY, February 2, 2010. Dynatronics Corporation (NASDAQ: DYNT) today announced that the company has received a letter from NASDAQ stating that Dynatronics has regained compliance with the $1.00 minimum bid requirement for listing on that exchange.

“We are appreciative that NASDAQ granted our appeal in November for extra time to achieve full compliance with all listing requirements. By curing the $1 minimum bid deficiency in January, we have removed the current threat of delisting thus preserving value for our shareholders,” stated Kelvyn H. Cullimore Jr., chairman and president of Dynatronics Corporation. “We believe that our success in generating five straight quarters of improved profitability gave investors confidence in our strategic growth plans and the potential profitability these plans present for the future.”

Dynatronics manufactures, markets and distributes advanced-technology medical devices, orthopedic soft goods and supplies, treatment tables and rehabilitation equipment for the physical therapy, sports medicine, chiropractic, podiatry, plastic surgery, dermatology and other related medical, cosmetic and aesthetic markets. More information regarding Dynatronics is available at <http://www.dynatronics.com>.
